

Annotated list of Acts of Parliament relating to the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway

Compiled by Mike Fitton

L&YR Society RESEARCH AIDS

The aim of the Research Aids series is to make research and reference material relating to the LYR easier to find and access. Some subjects, such as 25" Ordnance Survey maps, will take the form of a detailed reference list, together with an introduction and information on how to obtain copies. In other cases, such as working timetables, original LYR documents will be reproduced in facsimile, again with an explanatory introduction.

The series will develop over time and there will be updated versions as knowledge of a particular subject increases. Copies will be available from the Society website (www.lyrs.org.uk) as PDF files, for users to print out or use on-screen as they choose. A list of Research Aids currently available will also appear in the Society's Magazine from time to time.

ANNOTATED LIST OF ACTS OF PARLIAMENT RELATING TO THE LANCASHIRE AND YORKSHIRE RAILWAY

Compiled by Mike Fitton

This is a work in progress. The basic listing is believed to be complete, but the annotations require a lot more work. Updated versions will be made available as significant additions are made to the text. I would be grateful if errors and omissions can be brought to my attention.

VERSION OF 12 JUNE 2013

Notes

The basic list was derived from John Marshall's history, The Lancashire & Yorkshire Railway, Volume 2, Appendix 2. The availability of Marshall's listing considerably speeded up the completion of the present list. For entries annotated 'JM z', z is the number of the subsection within Appendix 2) Additional information was gleaned from the official government legislation website at <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/changes/chron-tables/local> Entries were then (and are being) further checked and augmented from copies of the Acts themselves (when marked MGF).

Arrangement and content of each entry:

The official 'short title', as authorised in the Act itself, is given first. Where this differs between sources both versions are given pending seeing a copy of the Act.

The second line gives the date of Royal Assent (format dd.mm.yyyy, for example, 23.08.1831) and the Parliamentary reference (years of the reign of the monarch in that calendar year and chapter number, for example, 1 & 2 Will. 4 Ch. lx), together with the number of pages (when a copy has been seen). All the Acts are 'Local' Acts and the normal convention of referring to the chapter numbers of Local Acts using lower case Roman numerals is followed (to distinguish them from Public General Acts and Private/Personal Acts).

The third section, headed Subsequent enactments, indicates subsequent Acts which affect the Act, for example, repeals, extensions of time, etc. This information is taken from <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/changes/chron-tables/local> and has not been checked against the cited Acts and may have errors and omissions. This website has useful additional guidance and explanation, including a listing of libraries and record offices which have copies.

In the fullness of time, following review of a copy of each Act, a fourth section, headed Summary, will be added, providing a brief précis of the main provisions. For an example see the entry on Liverpool Southport and Preston Junction Railway Act 1884. In the meantime Marshall's appendix can be consulted for very basic information.

It must be remembered that although an Act confers powers to do certain things there is no guarantee that they were actually done! An Act was the final, successful outcome of the Parliamentary process and other documentation (the Bill, Deposited Plans, Proofs of Evidence, and Minutes of Evidence) may include valuable relevant information. The most important are probably the Deposited Plans (copies of which had to be deposited locally as well as with Parliament) because they are frequently referred to in the Act. The locally deposited plans usually ended up in county record offices. Apparently Bills and Proofs of Evidence often went through several drafts, so a copy may not be the final version. Of course some Bills never made it through the Parliamentary process and thus there is no relevant Act.

Some abbreviations used in the entries:

Ch.	Chapter
Edw. 7.	Edward 7th
Geo. 3.	George 3rd
Geo. 4.	George 4th
Geo. 5.	George 5th
s., ss.	section, sections
sch.	schedule
Vict.	Victoria
